

Tito - African American, Male, mid 30's. Average looks, average build. He has a criminal record for a bad decision that he once made. He was working for his uncle under the table, but when his uncle dies he's back unemployed. He's a good guy who just wants to take care of his wife but just can't catch a break and at times makes some really poor decisions.

TITO
Hey whats up Bro?

Tito is asked to tell about himself.

TITO (CONT'D)
Well... my name Tito Jenkins. I've got two wonderful kids and I'm married to the most phenomenal woman on the planet.

Tito is asked what's so special about his wife.

TITO (CONT'D)
Everything. Man I don't even know where to start. She's an extremely hard worker. She works as a school teacher and a bartender on weekend, yet she still finds the time and energy to take care of me and our kids.
(emotional)
Honestly, I know my wife's too good for me. But that's what makes her so special.

Tito is asked why can't he keep a job.

TITO (CONT'D)
Look I got in a little trouble when I was younger and had to sit down for a minute. When I got out I worked a odd job here and there, but I made a few mistakes and lost those jobs. About 2 years ago my uncle hired me to work at his auto shop, but he passed 6 months after and the building closed down. So I've been out of work for a minute.

Tito is asked what good is a man who can't provide. Tito pokes out his chest to put up a facade of confidence.

TITO (CONT'D)
I may not have a job, but I mean I do my thing in the bedroom.

Tito is asked if sex is all that he can bring to the table. Tito drops his head for a moment in shame, then looks around for a moment as if that would help him find the answer.

TITO (CONT'D)

Right now that's all I have.
